DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12/2/08 has been entered.

Applicant's arguments filed 12/2/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The amendment has been entered. Claims 1-18 are pending and under consideration. Claim 19 has been canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8, 10-18 rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Weiss et al., (US 5,981,165) is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1632

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 10-12 rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zhang et al, (Nature Biotechnology, 19: 1129-1133, 2001, IDS) in view of Flax et al, (Nature, 16: 1033-1039, 1998) is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-18 rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by Zhang et al, (Nature Biotechnology, 19: 1129-1133, 2001, IDS) or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Pataky et al, (Exp Neurol, 163(2): 357-372, 2000 (IDS)) is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The present claims have been amended to recite and encompass a method for producing isolated neural cells having the ability to differentiate into three primary germ layers and also germ cells, wherein the method comprises carrying out a suspension culture of embryonic stem cells in the presence of an astrocyte conditioned medium or ingredients equivalent to the conditioned medium to directly produce said isolated neural cells. Literal support for producing isolated neural cells having the ability to differentiate into three primary germ layers and also germ cells cannot be found in the specification. Moreover, it is very well known in the art of cell differentiation that neural cells lack the ability to differentiate into the three primary germ layers and also in germ cells. It appears the claim 1 as amended there is no support either in the specification nor scientifically to isolate neural cells having the ability to differentiate into the three primary germ layers and also germ cells. It is noted that Applicants fail to cite in claim 1, line 4, "embryonic stem cells having the ability to differentiate into three primary germ layers and also germ cells" as discussed in the interview held on 9/16/08 in order to distinguish an E3.5 day embryo or an E14 day embryo from embryonic stem cells. Furthermore, Applicants are reminded that new claim amendment proposals will be subject to new art rejections as present rejections are withdrawn in lieu of the new matter limitation.

Applicants fail to point to any specific support for the present claim amendments.

MPEP 2163.06 notes "If new subject matter is added to the disclosure, whether it be in the abstract, the specification, or the drawings, the examiner should object to the introduction of new matter under 35 U.S.C. 132 or 251 as appropriate, and require applicant to cancel the new matter. If new matter is added to the claims, the examiner should reject the claims under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph - written description requirement. In re Rasmussen, 650 F.2d 1212, 211 USPQ 323 (CCPA 1981). The examiner should still consider the subject matter added to the claim in making rejections based on prior art since the new matter rejection may be overcome by applicant. In an instance in which the claims have not been amended, per se, but the specification has been amended to add new matter, a rejection of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph should be made whenever any of the claim limitations are affected by the added material. When an amendment is filed in reply to an objection or rejection based on 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, a study of the entire application is often necessary to determine whether or not "new matter" is involved. Applicant should therefore specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure".
